

BUSINESS LEADERS CALLED TO ACTION BY HOOVER

MRS. McCORMICK DEAD; HAD LIFE OF BIG INTEREST

Was Social Dictator and Once the World's Richest Woman

Chicago, Aug. 26.—(AP)—Death, near the close of her sixtieth year of life, has ended finally the career of Mrs. Edith Rockefeller McCormick—social dictator, linguist, patron of the arts, who once was acclaimed the richest woman in the world.

She died peacefully after a lingering illness with cancer, the end coming in her Dixon, Ill., suite at 3:45 P. M. (CST) yesterday. About her were her reunited family and Edwin Krenn, her faithful friend and business associate who tossed his personal fortune of more than $1,000,000 into the market in an attempt to bolster the dwindling fortune of John D. Rockefeller's younger daughter.

A brief bulletin from the physician to whom she was taken after death, as serene as was her life, filled as it was with romance, social eminence, bitter personal disappointments, business successes, family unhappiness, and, near the end, financial losses.

The bulletin said: "Death was serene. Mrs. McCormick died at 3:45 o'clock (CST). Death came peacefully. All members of her family were at her bedside."

In the group as the end came was Harold F. McCormick, whose devotion to the dying woman attested the friendliness he has always shown since their divorce in 1921. There, too, was Mrs. McCormick's only son, Fowler, who alone had never completely broken the family ties. Present also were her older daughter, Muriel, now Mrs. Elsha Dyer Hubbard of Middle-town, Conn.; her third and youngest child, Mrs. Max Oser, the former Mathilde McCormick; Mrs. Fowler McCormick, the former Fifi Stillman; Mrs. Stillman's son, Alexander Stillman, and Major Hubbard, Muriel's husband.

Brother Will Come Arrangements for Mrs. McCormick's funeral had not been completed today, and it was considered extremely unlikely that John D. Rockefeller, now in his 93rd year, would be able to attend the last rites for his daughter, because of his advanced age. His son, John D. Rockefeller, Jr., who visited his sister recently was notified immediately of her death, and he is expected to come from his father's summer estate near Pocantico Hills, N. Y.

Had Mrs. McCormick lived until next Wednesday she would have been 60 years old.

Operated Too Late For the last few years she had suffered from cancer, undergoing an operation two years ago. It was revealed at the time however, that the surgery had not been resorted to in time to check the ravages of the disease. In addition she had to bear the misfortune of broken marriages, although that ailment, her doctors said, did not contribute directly to her demise.

Her death marked the close of a social dictatorship in which Mrs. McCormick held sway with a stern but queenly hand. Her position in the social world of this western metropolis was as definite and as absolute as was that of the first Mrs. Potter Palmer in her day.

To the end it remained unchanged. Patriot to the tip of her fingers, this daughter of John D. Rockefeller, met queens and princes on an equal footing.

Was Social Dictator Her social decisions were final. She could and did cancel a luncheon planned for 200 persons, at the last moment, without a word of explanation. But this was only a minor incident compared with the calm manner in which she met the barrage of rumors in the social world that she was planning to marry Edwin Krenn, the young Swiss architect whom she met during her long residence abroad.

But one of Chicago's most prominent citizens, whose name was unrevealed, was quoted today in the local press as saying he was positive Mrs. McCormick had never considered a second marriage.

Kept His Room Ready Ever since divorce broke the matrimonial ties with Harold F. McCormick even though she shared desecration, his room in his mansion on Lake Shore Drive was kept in readiness for his return, and every year on her birthday anniversary there was delivered to her a perfect yellow rose—her favorite flower, with his card attached.

There were those in Chicago who thought it might be an awkward moment for Mrs. McCormick and her former husband when she met him for the first time after his marriage to the Polish singer, Ganna Walska, from whom he later was divorced. The meeting occurred at the John McCormick Institute for Infectious Diseases, where a session of the board of directors was under way. But without a word she went into the room.

"How do you do, Harold?" she greeted him, "I'm glad to see you."

"I'm glad to see you, too, Edith," he replied.

They were the only ones unruffled ones in the room.

Then there was the time Mrs. McCormick had been in the room.

Trans-Oceanic Flier Overdue At Noon

West Brooklyn Couple Will Be Married At Picnic

The wedding at the Dixon Loyalty League's picnic for everyone in Rock River valley, at Lowell Park, next Thursday, September 1, is assured; for Reed Overton and Miss Martha Acker, both of West Brooklyn, have accepted the offer of the Mellett Furniture Co. of Dixon to present a bed room suite to a couple who would be married at the affair.

The young people's acceptance of the offer assures one of the main features of the picnic, which will doubtless draw one of the greatest gatherings of its kind in the history of the community. They will be married on the center platform in the park promptly at 2:45 o'clock.

Plans for the picnic are practically completed and a detailed program for the day's activities will be ready for publication in a day or so.

The festivities, to which everyone in the Dixon trading territory is invited, will start at 11:30 with the picnic dinner. This will be followed at 12:30 by a short address by Winfield Caslow, "The Main Street Crusader," and from then on until dark there will be something doing every minute; while sometime during the afternoon the Loyalty League's awards to patrons for the month of August will be announced.

NEW INVASION OF COAL FIELD PLAN OF MINERS

Strikers Announce a Plan For March By A Smaller Force

Gillespie, Ill., Aug. 26.—(AP)—A new invasion of southern Illinois coal fields by a select group the quick-moving pickets was planned today by striking miners whose "peaceful" caravan was beaten back at the Franklin county line by gunfire and clubs of Sheriff's deputies.

The miners' policy committee here announced mass meetings throughout the state today to map the new drive which, leaders declared, would be staged with the assistance of fellow diggers from Kentucky, Indiana and Oklahoma.

The date for the new move will be set within a few days and the miners will advance "on several fronts" at the same time, approaching Franklin county from the north, the leaders declared.

"The column of thousands of pickets, which was thrown into a panic when the Franklin county deputies opened fire on it at Mulkeytown Wednesday night, was too unwieldy, they said, and the new invasion will be staged by smaller, swifter and more compact units."

32 MINERS INDICTED Taylorville, Ill., Aug. 26.—(AP)—Thirty-two miners were indicted today by the Christian county grand jury on charges of rioting in connection with the picketing of four Peabody Coal Company mines by a force of about 10,000 central Illinois miners less than two weeks ago.

The miners were from Christian and Sangamon counties.

A new outbreak of violence also was reported today in the county as the Peabody Company announced resumption of operations in another of its four mines closed by the invading army which laid siege to Taylorville for two days.

Miners Home Bombed An explosion wrecked the front porch of a home occupied by Ray Tombozzi, a Taylorville miner arrested recently on the picket lines of Peabody Mine No. 58, just outside the city, on charges of disorderly conduct.

Sheriff Charles Wieneke said the explosion "didn't amount to anything." He declined to discuss it further. Tombozzi said the explosion was caused by a can of dynamite.

A second can filled with dynamite, he said, was found by Sheriff's deputies in the rear of the house, apparently having failed to go off.

No. 58 was the mine which the Peabody officials said opened today with 70 men. Mine No. 9 at Langley was working with 155 men, they reported, despite large cordons of pickets surrounding it.

TO DEAL WITH UNRULY Benton, Ill., Aug. 26.—(AP)—Franklin county officials, having repulsed the invasion of striking miners from northern and central Illinois who sought to force the closing of coal mines in this region following acceptance of a wage reduction for union miners.

EMORY WARNER OF OGLE COUNTY IS VICTIM OF FIRE

84-Year-Old Pioneer Died Of Burns Received In Burning Brush

Emory Warner, aged 84, a pioneer of Ogle county, passed away at 4:50 o'clock Thursday afternoon at the home of his son, Dewitt Warner, in Pine Creek township, his death resulting from severe burns he received while burning brush Wednesday afternoon on the son's farm, six miles northwest of Oregon. Funeral services will be held at the Dewitt Warner home at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon and at the Christian church at Grand Detour at 2:30, with burial in the Grand Detour cemetery.

Wednesday afternoon Mr. Warner drove to a field on the farm, and gathered dead corn stalks and bits of wood into a pile to burn them. When part of the brush failed to kindle, the aged man, who was remarkably spry and healthy for one of his years, climbed onto the pile to tramp it down, when suddenly the brush ignited, the flames leaping to his trousers and setting them on fire.

He managed to climb out of the fire and crawled to his buggy, nearby, lapsing into unconsciousness after he had gotten into the vehicle. The driverless horse made its way to the farm house where members of the family at once saw the unconscious man, removed him from the buggy and into the house and summoned a physician.

Local finding Mr. Warner to have been burned too severely about the lower part of his body to permit his being removed to a hospital, rendered all possible aid at the home. But the shock and burns were more than he could endure and death mercifully ended his sufferings in less than twenty-four hours.

Mr. Warner was born in Ogle county April 6, 1848, and all of his life, with the exception of four years in Iowa, was spent in the county of his nativity. His wife preceded him in death April 22, 1922. His survivors being four sons, James of Oregon, Dewitt of Pine Creek and Charles and John of Grand Detour; a sister, Mrs. Edna Lawler of Oregon; seven grandchildren and nine great grandchildren.

Moose Delegates In Fine Parade Tonight Order Shows Growth

Cleveland, Aug. 26.—(AP)—More than 8000 members of the Loyal Order of Moose in gala attire, 20 beautiful floats and numerous bands will be in a mile-long parade here tonight, the most spectacular event of the order's international convention.

Local and state patriotic societies will join in the march to observe the Washington bicentennial. There will be 250 Daughters of the American Revolution appearing in colors to resemble a "human flag."

The Women's Auxiliary of the Grand Army of the Republic will present a float depicting the signing of the Declaration of Independence. Famous aviators and 250 em-ployees of the national air races will appear in uniform.

The treasury report, made yesterday, disclosed the order in good financial condition with a membership gain of 81,345 during the preceding 12 months.

Enormous Crowds At Springfield Greet Ex-Governor Small

Yesterday, Governor's Day at the State Fair at Springfield, brought forth a record breaking crowd. There were 127,000 paid admissions, contrasting with 23,000 on Democratic day the day before.

Governor Small was there and hailed as the standard bearer of the G. O. P. in Illinois. Governor Emmerson was too ill to be present. Former Governor Small paid a friendly call on Governor Emmerson in his sick room at the Mansion.

The fair closes tomorrow.

Former Dixontie Dead in Rockford

Dixon trends of Mrs. Nellie Potter of Rockford, formerly of Dixon, were saddened today to learn of her death in Rockford at an early hour this morning. Details of her passing were not learned here today, but it was stated the body will be brought to Dixon for burial, the time to be announced later.

FARMER SUICIDES Harrisburg, Ill., Aug. 26.—(AP)—Sherman Lambert, 65-year-old farmer, despondent over ill health took his life with a shotgun late yesterday. His wife was 200 yards away returning home from a neighbor's house.

Terse Items of News Gathered in Dixon During Day

HAD 14 OPERATIONS One of Dixon's prominent specialists had performed fourteen operations this week up until noon today.

SALT IS NEEDED The Paul Rader Pantry at the Assembly Park is in need of a barrel of salt, which it is hoped someone in Dixon or Lee county will donate.

TROPHY ON DISPLAY The silver trophy which will be presented to the team winning the city series in Dixon is on display in a window of the Trein Jewelry store. It is a very beautiful trophy.

AT BIG CONVENTION Dr. S. Chandler Bend and his assistant, Dr. Slaats, attended the Lyceum convention at the Palmer School of Chiropractic in Davenport this week. There were 2,850 chiropractors in attendance, some being from New Zealand, Rome, Italy, Switzerland and the Canal Zone.

LAST CONCERT TONIGHT The final open air concert of the season by the Dixon Civic Band will be given at the court house square this evening at 7:45 o'clock. The program for the last concert as arranged by Director C. B. Price is one of merit and an exceptionally large audience is expected to hear the musicians.

PICNIC A SUCCESS Despite the threatening weather during the afternoon the annual picnic of Dixon Elks yesterday was one of the most enjoyable the "Bills" have every had. About 3000 enjoyed the fine fried chicken dinner and afternoon sports, but the storm in the evening prevented the program of boxing bouts being carried out.

GONE ON VACATION Mr. and Mrs. John Sheaffer, son Irwin and daughter Katherine of Palmyra township, have gone to Lancaster, Pa., for a vacation visit which will extend until Labor Day, and during their absence Harold Sheaffer is running their farm. His brother Robert is conducting the Ward Shank farm while Mr. Shank and his family are in Virginia for a visit. Later in the fall Harold and Robert expect to go to Colorado for a visit.

V.F.W. To Install Post At Galena: To Be a Gala Day

The stag picnic planned by Dixon Post No. 9, Military Order of Gouties, for Sunday has been postponed until September 4, because many of the members of the tent will go to Galena Sunday to institute a new post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars. The Galena post is to be known as the Gen. U. S. Grant Post No. 2665 and several other posts in the Blackhawk Counties Area Council plan to send delegations with bands and drum corps.

Commander Oliver Porter of Horace P. Ort Post No. 540 has invited all comrades and their families to spend the day at Galena. The parade of the day will be held at 11:30 A. M. and dinner will be served at Rhoderville, four miles west of Galena.

PAY PASTOR IN FOOD Galesburg, Ill., Aug. 26.—(AP)—If members of the Methodist churches at Green Bush, Prairie City and Walnut Grove can't pay their pledges in cash, offerings for the pastor's table are acceptable.

Rev. B. D. Willett is pastor of the three churches, whose members are 50 per cent delinquent in dues. The offering, either bring in grain, chickens, eggs, milk, cream or other goods acceptable to the minister, or "bring someone else into our fellowship of service."

AIR INSTITUTE OPENS, Akron, O.—The Daniel Guggenheim Airship Institute has been opened at Akron University here after provisions were made for its organization by the late Daniel Guggenheim. The institute will conduct research work in aerodynamics, meteorology and structures with special reference to the airship. A large vertical wind tunnel has been built to aid in the experiments.

BLIMP FOR FAIR, Chicago.—During the 1933 World's Fair to be held here next year, visitors will be given a chance at blimp riding. Arrangements have been made for construction of a blimp dock adjoining the Pal-waukee Airport at Wheeling, Ill., between Evanston and Waukegan. The blimp will be used for observation and aerial tours.

Sections of pipe to be installed at the Hoover dam at Boulder canyon will weigh 180 tons each.

LEE-BOCHKON PLANE HASN'T BEEN REPORTED

Had Expected To Land At Oslo, Norway By Noon

Harbor Grace, N. F., Aug. 26.—(AP)—Clyde Lee and John Bochkon, who expected to arrive at Oslo, Norway, before noon, (EST) today in the airplane "Green Mountain Boy," were unreported as that hour passed.

Word from Barre, Vt. where the two fliers took off last Tuesday to come here for their only stop on the way to Oslo, said that Hubert Huntington, their navigation and weather advisor, was unworried.

When the fliers hopped yesterday morning at 5:02 (EST) on the second leg of their journey from Barre, toward the land of the Vikings, they said they hoped to make it in 30 hours. That would put them in Oslo shortly after 11 A. M. today.

Some slight anxiety was felt because no vessel reported sighting the plane, although it was presumably flying in the path of many ships, but it was believed possibly the fliers might have climbed high to avoid a rainstorm they expected to meet 600 miles off Newfoundland, and thus would not be easy to sight.

Flying the Great Circle, the red monoplane, according to its plotted course and estimated speed, should have hit the Irish coast near Galway at about 11 o'clock last night. The airman planned to fly over Dublin, southern England, and Cuxhaven, Germany, before coming down at Kiel, Field, Oslo.

Galway is on the west coast of Ireland and about 1,800 miles from Harbor Grace.

The airman had allowed a comfortable margin for safety in their tanks. They carried enough fuel for 37 hours flying. They were also prepared for a sea landing.

FREED CONVICTS WHO CONFESSED JEWEL ROBBERY

Chicago Judge Frees Convicts Sent Up From Champaign

Chicago, Aug. 26.—(AP)—The state Supreme Court has been asked to order Judge James J. Kelly to expunge from his records a writ by which Oliver A. Berg and Hymie Dickholz were freed from the penitentiary at Joliet.

Assistant State's Atty. Charles J. Mueller, announced yesterday that he had taken the action. The men were serving life sentences after pleading guilty to a $500,000 jewel robbery in Champaign county. They confessed robbing three jewelry salesmen on an Illinois Central train.

Mueller said the Cook County state's attorney's office was taking the initiative in seeking to reincarcerate the men because State's Attorney Roy R. Cline of Champaign county was not notified that Judge Kelly, in Cook county, was entertaining a motion to free the men.

Records show that the petition for a writ of habeas corpus in behalf of Berg and Dickholz was filed in Cook County Nov. 4, 1931. One Cook county judge indicated he would not grant the petition so it was withdrawn by the men's attorneys and subsequently filed before Judge Kelly who freed the convicts March 4.

Bride To Be, Wrecks Car and Wedding Is Not Held This Morn

Linton, Ind., Aug. 26.—(AP)—Plans for the wedding today of Miss Nevaline Powell, of Harrisburg, Ill., and William C. Land, Harrisburg postmaster, were disrupted last night by the collision of their automobile and a motor coach. The couple and six bus passengers were injured.

The car driven by Miss Powell collided with a Greyhound bus on the Indianapolis-Vincennes route in Swiss City. The machine overturned, plunging Land underneath. He was the most seriously injured, suffering a skull fracture.

All of the injured were brought to the Green county hospital here. Miss Powell suffered head lacerations.

Land and Miss Powell were driving to the home of Land's sister at Worthington, near here, where they had planned to be married today. Miss Powell said her diamond ring and purse had been lost or stolen after the accident.

NEGRO DIES IN FALL Chicago, Aug. 26.—(AP)—James Beaslet, 65, a negro from Monmouth, Ill., was killed today when he leaped or fell from a third floor window of the Illinois Eye and Ear Infirmary. He was awaiting an eye operation.

JOS. SHELHAMER CALLED BY DEATH EARLY THIS MORN

Was One of First White Children Born In This Vicinity—Aged 91

Joseph Shelhamer, one of the first white children born in Dixon, and well known veteran of the Civil War, passed away at his home, 1209 Peoria avenue, at 6 o'clock this morning at the age of 91 years, two months and eleven days. His death was the result of the infirmities of his age and complications and ended an illness of eight months duration.

Funeral services will be held at the home Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Dr. Gilbert Stansell, pastor of the First Methodist church, officiating and with burial in Oakwood.

Comrade Shelhamer, who was a charter member of Dixon Post No. 299, G. A. R., in which he always took an active part up until the last year, was born in the log cabin at Hazelwood, June 15, 1841, being the youngest of eight children born to Solomon and Jane Buckenale Shelhamer, early pioneers who came to Dixon from Espy, Pa. in 1838, when the settlement was but a cluster of cabins along the river banks.

He received his education in the Dixon schools and spent his boyhood and youth here. On August 26, 1861, he enlisted in Company D, 35th Illinois Infantry at Frankline Grove, was mustered into the military service of the United States at Camp Butler, near Springfield, Sept. 7, 1861, serving with the Central Division.

Mr. Shelhamer was wounded at Shiloh, April 7, 1862, and at Stone River, Dec. 31, of the same year. After spending four months in southern hospitals he was honorably discharged, on account of his wounds, on May 18, 1863, after which he returned to Dixon to make his home here and in nearby towns.

On March 12, 1874, he was united in marriage with Belinda Catherine Meese, three children being born to this union: a son who died in infancy; a daughter, Miss Ima, at home; and a son, Roscoe Shelhamer of Pine Island, Minn.

Until his physical condition prohibited it Mr. Shelhamer was a frequent visitor to the business part of the city, where he delighted in talking with his many friends and greeting his comrades of the troublesome Civil War days. He was always interested in the city of his birth and especially in its younger folks, many of whom he numbered as his friends.

One of the deepest holes in the world was drilled in 1926 in Orange County, California. It was sunk 8291 feet.

Bank Receivers Ordered To Stop All Foreclosures

Washington, Aug. 26.—(AP)—Chairman Fort of the Home Loan Board today announced that John W. Pole, Comptroller of the Currency has ordered every national bank receiver to suspend foreclosure proceedings for 60 days.

Fort made his announcement to the national economic conference meeting here today.

"We are today wiring," he added, "every state supervising authority, requesting like action. We want your help to see not only that receiver generally grant this 60 day respite, but that other lenders do likewise. There are times when forced liquidation of indebtedness is indefensible—certainly if any other means of procuring funds exists."

"It would be shameful if, with relief in sight so soon, the courage and hope of our men and women should be extinguished by taking away their homes and their life savings."

He promised every cooperation of the government in the new endeavor and cited new agencies available for fresh economic attacks but he emphasized it was now time for the bankers and business leaders to go to work in earnest.

"The reason for calling this conference at this particular moment," said Mr. Hoover, "is that we are convinced that we have overcome the major financial crisis—a crisis in severity unparalleled in the history of the world—and that with its relaxation confidence and hope have reappeared in the world. We are now able to take further steps in solution of the industrial and agricultural problems with which we are still confronted."

Tells His Desires "What I wish is that banking and industry and business generally should in this new setting assume further initiative and responsibility; and they should cooperate with agriculture and labor and the government agencies to organize and develop every possible avenue of coordinated effort on the economic front."

Besides the President on the platform of the Commerce Department auditorium platform were Secretary Mills and Owen D. Young, New York financier and Democrat, who have worked out a program designed to aid in carrying out the plan for new jobs and credit.

Henry M. Robinson of Los Angeles introduced Mr. Hoover. The general of American business listened intently and gave courteous applause at the finish.

Program Outlined Mills then outlined the program of action, including a plan for creation of a central business committee to direct united action by the twelve banking and industrial committees of the nation.

The Secretary of the Treasury emphasized the central committee was not to be an economic council directing the economic policies of the nation but rather an organization to bring about cooperation between the government and private business.

Six specific endeavors for promoting economic improvement were recommended by Secretary Mills.

He told the assembled banking and industrial committees of the twelve federal reserve districts that this program had been presented to their chairmen in yesterday's all-day meeting and believed "worthy of consideration" by the conference.

Not For Direction "We are not setting up an economic council to endeavor to direct the economic policies of the country," the Treasury Secretary assured the gathering.

"We are creating a central organization for the purpose of contact and cooperation to assist in the task to be performed by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, Federal Reserve Bank, the banking and industrial committees and such voluntary groups as may associate themselves with the latter with a view to developing helpful steps looking to gradual economic rehabilitation and more immediately an increase in employment."

The six-point program of business, industrial and agricultural endeavors was outlined by Mills as follows:

1. The problem of making available credit affirmatively useful to business.

2. To increase employment by the railroads and stimulation of industry through expansion and maintenance of equipment and purchase of new equipment in co-operation with the Interstate Commerce Commission and the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

3. Increased employment by the "sharing" of work movement.

4. The stimulation of the repair and improvement of home, movement.

5. Assistance to home owners with maturing mortgages.

6. Active cooperation of all banking and industrial committees with the Reconstruction Finance Corporation in working out the problems incident to the making of self-liquidating loans for pub-

NEW INVASION

OF COAL FIELD

PLAN OF MINERS

today said they were prepared to direct attention toward alleged 'radical' activities within the county.

Patrols of special deputy sheriffs continued to guard highways leading into this county, center of a large bituminous coal producing area but there was no indication of an immediate attempt on the part of the upstate miners to keep southern Illinois miners from work.

Tension brought about by developments of the last week which included several clashes between miners on one hand and striking officers or mine pickets on the other, resulting in one death and a number of injuries, had lessened considerably.

Additional mines have been reopened each day, with ten operating this morning in "rankin county. Officials at the county seat here admitted that there is still much unrest growing out of the approval of a $5 daily wage scale by International President

John L. Lewis of the United Mine

Workers of America and other officials. This unrest, officials said, is attributable to "radical agitators."

Ancient Writers Depict

Terror Spread by Fly

One old writer tells us that: "Catelie are struck with such terror at the approach of these insects (flies) that they forsake the pastures and run, furiously, in every direction, until exhausted by fatigue they sink down and expire. Even the elephant and rhinoceros, though they cover their thick hides with a coating of mud, are unable to protect themselves from these troublesome persecutors. Their attacks are not confined to the brute creation; and when they sting a human being, vilent tumors are produced, and every part of the body becomes as if infected with leprosy."

When to this graphic description of the terrors excited by the advent of such flies, are added the further well-known facts that in the East

some make their way into the nose, ears and eyes to breed, others bore into and deposit their eggs in the flesh, where maggots are produced, frequent causes of very painful and often dangerous ulcers, we can readily understand the awfulness of the plague whereby Almighty God would drive Pharaoh and the Egyptians to do his will, before he should be compelled to inflict greater troubles upon them.—Exchange.

WHO ARE THE GAY?
WHOM call we gay? That honour has been long
The boast of mere pretenders to the name.
The innocent are gay—the lark is gay,
That dries his feathers, saturated with dew.
Beneath the rosy cloud, while yet the beams
Of day-spring overshoot his humble nest.
The peasant too, a witness of his song, Himself a songster, is as gay as he—

Angle-Carr Marriage of July 23rd

Polo, Aug. 26—Announcement has been made of the marriage of Miss Ruby Angle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Angle of Polo, to Marlin Carr, son of Harvey Carr, Mount Morris, which took place on Saturday evening, July 23, at 8 o'clock.

The Rev. J. G. Whitten of the Belvidere Baptist church officiated. Miss Evelyn Brown attended the bride, while Clark Smith acted as best man.

The bride wore a simple frock of white crepe and carried an arm bouquet of Talcott roses and sweet peas. She was a member of this year's graduating class of Polo Community high school. Mr. Carr was graduated in 1929 from Mount Morris high school and is now with the Kable Brothers Printing company in that city, where they will make their home.

Dixon Lady Golfers Guests at Morrison

The women of the Morrison Country Club entertained seven women from the Dixon Country Club Thursday. It looked so much like rain that the attendance from Dixon was small. A luncheon was enjoyed and a happy day spent by both Morrison and Dixon devotees of the game.

Miss Helen Cahill won the low gross prize for the day and Miss Marion Davies won the low putt prize, for Dixon.

Mrs. Albert Burnham won the low gross for Morrison and Mrs. M. Moritz won the low putt prize.

Prize for Flower, and Vegetable Cart

When Newport held its recent flower show, Mrs. John S. Scheepers of New York, received one of the first prizes for her flowers and vegetable cart. Mrs. Scheepers arranged a cart on the pattern of Italian street vendors who mingle flowers and vegetables in a haphazard fashion. She was careful to get a colorful effect, which helped the judges to decide in favor of her display.

Paris Stylists Launch War On Fashion Pirates

PARIS (AP)—An attack on "fashion pirates" who place false French labels in low-priced hats manufactured in the United States has been launched here with the signing of a protective agreement between 25 leading Paris milliners and 16 prominent American hat manufacturers.

Under the agreement, former between the Parisian designers and the Millinery Quality Guild having headquarters in New York, the American hat manufacturers pledged themselves to limit their purchases to the 25 Parisian milliners and to combat unauthorities use of their trademarks in low priced hats manufactured in the United States.

Labels To Be Numbered
Special numbered labels,ouching for the authenticity of models will be manufactured in France and sold through the New York headquarters of the Millinery Quality Guild.

Members of the organization desiring labels will be forced to present consular invoices certifying the purchase of the hat in Paris and will be held responsible for the disposition of the numbered labels which they buy.

To Fix Price of Copies
The guild, members of which include the largest and most widely known hat manufacturers in the United States, will also establish a minimum price for copies which its members make of hats purchased in Paris.

The 25 Parisian milliners are: Agnes, Talbot, Patou, Bryere, Camille Roger, Reboux, Germaine Page, Lanvin, LeMonnier, Louise Bourdon, Mado, Mainbocher, Molyneux Rose, Descat, Valois Lewis, Marcelle Lely, Blanche et Simone, Marie Guy, Goupy, Gabby Mono, Marie Christiana, Marie Alphonse, Suzy White and Marthe.

Lace Will Take Prominent Part in the Winter Mode For Evening

Here are examples of the way Jean Patou uses lace for evening gowns. At left is a black costume, with soft green satin ribbon, worn over a satin slip. Above and at left are two views of a classically simple white lace dress. The ribbon sash lace as one of the most tempting mediums for a dress designer.

Is Best for Outlining the New Silhouette, Declares Patou.

By JEAN PATOU
Written for NEA Service

PARIS—Lace is far from being one of the fabrics most monopolized in the creation of evening gowns, yet it certainly is one of the fabrics that possesses the most attractive qualities. Sheerness and richness of texture and design are features usually present in lace, added to which the variety of patterns enhances its already indisputably decorative assets.

Another attractive point about lace is that one can outline the contours of the silhouette without ever running the risk of over-emphasizing any definite line. It is also the medium which best lends itself to contribute a vaporous effect to a movement at a strategic point, where with another fabric too much stress might be the result. This latter advantage classes

As with all things, though, lace can present a few minor drawbacks. Foremost among the things that we regret about it, I think, is the inevitable impression of somberness and sadness which emanates from an unrelieved lace dress, especially if it is in some dark color.

As a matter of fact, it is almost impossible to use lace alone, and there are certain elements that cut across fall back on to palliate these inconveniences and which at the same time enhance its qualities. The combining of dull and shiny surfaces is sometimes sufficient, whether this takes the form of mat and brilliant lace used together, or either kind of lace placed over a dull or shiny-surfaced foundation. The brilliant or shiny note can equally well be contributed by the addition of an attribute such as a belt, which supplies at the same time the vivid color element. The use of another fabric like chiffon, also will often solve the simplest lace dress from the sheer monotony, besides adding a further note of lightness and fluffiness.

Slips Often Too Short
Transparency is another trick in the designer's hand which can achieve miracles of loveliness and there are countless effects to be attained by this means. As a matter of fact, transparency also can prove a pitfall for the unsuspecting creator, and a I have noticed one and time again that an apparently secondary point such as too short a foundation or slip is enough to utterly ruin an otherwise perfect model.

The natural advantages of design and decoration which most lace carry in themselves should never allow a couturier to neglect the actual construction and cut of the gown. Lace offering a perfect intermediary between the very sheer and the full-filled fabrics, and therefore allowing for semi-transparent, draped, volant and other effects, it is only natural these advantages are never neglected by the creator and all of which help to make the lace dress one of the most becoming for evening wear.

Farewell Party for Miss Frances Rossiter

A farewell party was held for Miss Frances Rossiter, who is soon to move to Freeport, at the home of Miss Phyllis Suter, of West Second Street, the first of the week. Bridge was the feature of the evening. Miss Helen Deveney and John Goshart received the prizes for high honors and Miss Jane Bradford and Paul Guthrie received the consolation prizes. Miss Rossiter was presented with a guest prize.

The colors of yellow and black were carried out both in the decorations and refreshments and were very pretty.

John Goshart and Mildred A. Kosier of Sterling were out of town guests in attendance.

IS "MASS EDUCATION" DOOMED?

A few years ago prominent American educators were lamenting the growth of "mass education" in the United States. Colleges and universities had record-breaking enrollments, thousands of young people who were not capable of assimilating a higher education were flocking to the campuses, and many institutions were almost swamped with the rush of applicants.

Right now it looks as if the depression has entirely changed that condition. Latest reports from educators are that thousands of under-graduates will be unable to return to school this fall. Enrollments everywhere are due to drop sharply. Probably not a school in the land will have reason to complain of an excessive number of students.

The only trouble with this is that it won't weed out the right people. Among the young people whom financial difficulties will keep out of college are thousands who deserve and need a college education. The nit-wits who waste the colleges' time are as apt as not to be back with bells on.

TREES VS. SPEED.

The question whether a row of fine trees is worth more than a wide, straight automobile highway is one that comes up frequently in this motorized age. Unfortunately, it usually gets decided in favor of the highway.

One of the trunk highways in the middle west has proven a bit narrow for the volume of traffic it has to carry. It can be widened very nicely except for one stretch of about four miles. There it passes through a village, and on each side it is flanked by a row of enormous maples and elms. Highway engineers insist that the trees must come down so that the road can be widened; village residents are out to defend their trees to the end.

Somehow we can't help hoping that the villagers win. What if the stream of traffic does have to move slowly for a few miles? The compensations that the weary motorist gets when he drives down an avenue where great trees meet overhead are more than enough to make up for it. As a nation, we have already sacrificed too many trees to our desire for speed.

A CHANCE FOR INVESTORS.

Advancing prices in the stock markets have a peculiar appeal to those hundreds of thousands of Americans who "played the market" more or less regularly up to the fall of 1929 but who have laid off ever since with all the fervor of a child which has had its fingers burned. Now they are wanting to get back in; brokers in every city are getting a flood of requests for advice about investments.

It might be a good thing to remember, though, that there is no guarantee that prices are going to keep on rising just now. In good times or bad, the stock market is a place for experts—and for no one else. Beating Wall Street is a trick that the little fellow never quite accomplishes.

Buying for investment, however, is something else again. There are plenty of genuine bargains awaiting purchasers nowadays; and the man who wants to buy a security and hold it has a chance now to do very well for himself.

OUR AIRMAIL INCENTIVE.

Development of the air mail system at government expense has probably done more than any other factor to promote the rise of commercial aviation lines in the United States. Yet the whole vast job has really cost the taxpayer comparatively little.

Charles L. Lawrence, president of the Aeronautical Chamber of Commerce of America, Inc., revealed the other day that in the last 14 years the federal government has spent a little less than $67,000,000 on its airmail system. This includes everything, from operation costs to the establishment and maintenance of the great lighted airways.

Considering the service that the airmail has rendered, together with the extensive spread of privately owned commercial air lines, it is easy to see that Uncle Sam got full value for his money.

ROSENWALD GENEROSITY.

The late Julius Rosenwald was famous for his many philanthropies. One of the things often overlooked, however is the fact that when he distributed his money he didn't forget his own employees.

It was revealed recently in Chicago that in the great stock market crash of 1929, Rosenwald guaranteed the brokerage accounts of his employees. This, it develops, cost him just $7,825,000.

An action of that sort, of course, is no part of any employer's duty. If the people who are working for you want to invest their savings in securities, that is strictly their own affair and you aren't responsible. Rosenwald's action is simply one more indication that he never cared to confine himself to his simple duty. It was just one more instance in which he went out of his way to make his money helpful to others.

TRUE LOVE TRIANGLES—NO. 5

A BROKER, A BEAUTY AND A BEAUTY SHOP
OWNER FIGURE IN BIGAMOUS BATTLE

Olive Borden Quits Hubby, Finding He's Married

EDITOR'S NOTE — This is the fifth of a series of six daily stories detailing glamorous romances that have marked true love triangles of 1932, a subject made timely by the three-cornered Libby Holman-Ab-Walker-Smith Reynolds tragedy in North Carolina.

By NEA Service—

Handsome "Teddy" Spector, 31-year-old stock broker who is described by an ex-wife as a "tall good-looking brute, who certainly had a fast line," had two wives last year — but today he hasn't any.

Petite Mrs. Pearl Haworth Spector, operator of a beauty parlor at Buffalo, N. Y., who was only 15 years old when Spector married her after a whirlwind courtship in 1919, had just won her divorce.

Olive A. Borden, a former movie star, whom Spector married in Port Chester, N. Y., last year without going to the trouble to divorce the first Mrs. Spector (according to a grand jury indictment charging him with bigamy), has left him and is seeking annulment of her marriage.

Why did "Teddy" Spector marry when he already had a wife? Pearl Haworth Spector declared "Teddy" had told her that Olive had "threatened to jump off the roof of a 20-story building" if he didn't marry her. Olive it seems, thought Teddy already had his divorce; unfortunately, Teddy had overlooked this detail. But when a woman threatens to jump off the roof of a sky-scraper, that's no time for delaying matters — so Teddy married her immediately.

Such is the odd drama that has just been unfolded in the courts at Buffalo and Port Chester, which furnished one of the most unusual love triangles revealed in 1932.

The recent phase of the three-cornered romance began on March 23, 1931, when Teddy married Olive in Port Chester—which, it would seem, is a town where they have buildings 20 stories high.

Things rocked along smoothly, more or less, until April, 1932. Olive continued to fill her "personal appearance" "theatrical" engagements while Teddy toiled in his brokerage office on Wall street in New York City.

Then, last April, came a sudden announcement from Mrs. Pearl Haworth Spector, proprietor of the Rouge Box Beauty Salon on Buffalo's famous Genesee street. She said that she was the legal wife of Mr. Spector, that he had left her a dozen years before and had never obtained a divorce.

They were married in Buffalo in 1919, she said, when she was a 15-year-old office girl. Tall, dark and handsome "Teddy" Spector won her heart and hand—and then left her after 18 months of what might, or might not, be called wedded bliss.

Mrs. Spector No. 1, had two big ideas. One was to get a divorce. The other was to tell the prosecuting officials in Port Chester about Teddy. Evidently, she did both.

"He was a tall, good-looking conceited brute," says Pearl—with a faint suspicion of wistfulness. Mrs. Spector says "Teddy" left her in 1920 with this announcement: "I've got plenty of brains and I'm not going to waste them fussing around here!"

Pearl waited a dozen years for her revenge. At a recent conference between Spector and their

"TEDDY" SPECTOR

MRS. PEARL SPECTOR

attorneys, she confronted "Teddy" with this boast and asked him: "How is it that as brainy a man as you would marry a woman while he was still the husband of another?"

Whereupon, Pearl said, "Teddy" replied: "Well, I had to marry Miss Borden. She threatened to destroy herself, if I didn't."

In New York, "Teddy" issued a statement saying that he had married Miss Borden under the impression that his first wife had divorced him during his absence. He said Pearl had called him on the phone and told him he was a free man. Pearl said this was the baloney; that a few days before his marriage to Olive "Teddy" had phoned her and offered to pay for a divorce if she would get it.

Emphatically, Pearl denied that she had told him: "If I can't have you, then nobody else can." "He's six feet tall, dark and very handsome," said the first Mrs. Spector in describing how Teddy's dashing appearance his good looks and gifts of speech had won her hand at 15. "But now I'm through with him...but he certainly had a wonderful line."

Pearl not only filed suit for divorce in Buffalo, but on May 12 she journeyed over to White Plains—seat of Westchester county in which Port Chester is situated—to testify before the grand jury in support of a bigamy charge against Teddy.

The grand jury refused to indict The District Attorney said there wasn't enough evidence to prove that the same Theodore I. Spector had married both women.

Undaunted, Pearl went back to White Plains two weeks later to testify before the grand jury again and this time, it seems, she had the evidence; the grand jury indicted Spector.

"I'm so glad," said Pearl, "that first trip made me look awful. I'll bet everybody thought I had been bought off."

To cap the climax. Just a few weeks ago the attractive Pearl won her divorce in Buffalo. Attired in a fashionable green suit, she took the stand and told the judge all about it. The only other witness was her attorney, John E. Barry, who testified that Teddy had admitted to him that he had married Miss Borden while still a husband, claiming that he had been forced to do this by her threat of suicide.

The court took the case under advisement and a few days later handed down a decision granting Pearl's divorce.

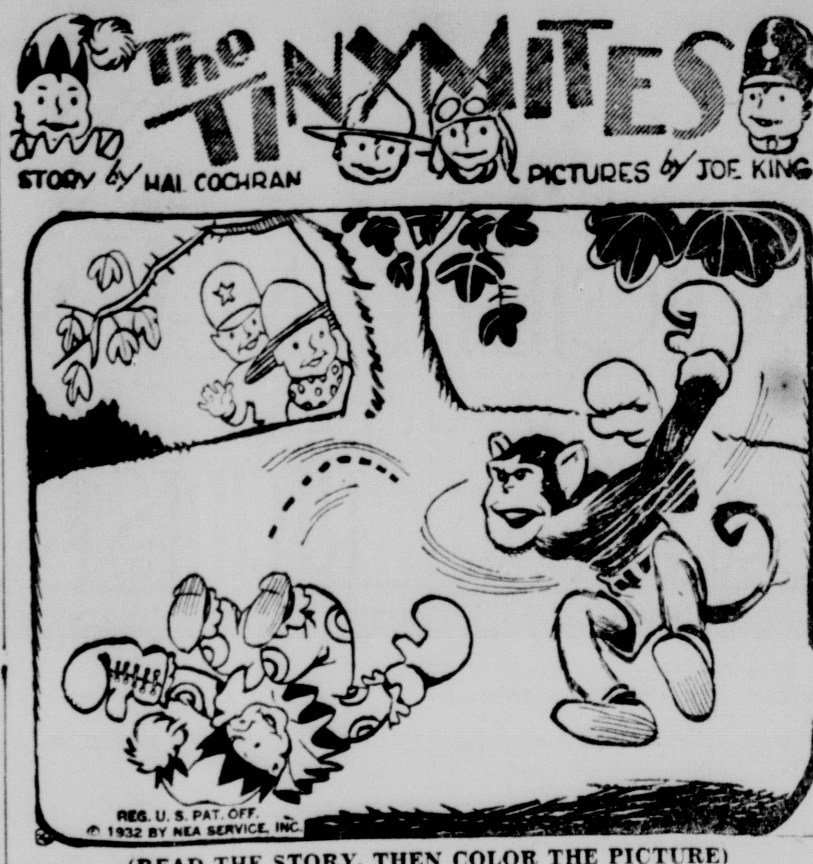

Whereupon Miss Pearl Haworth (nee Mrs. Theodore Spector No. 1) went gleefully back to her beauty salon to resume her business of plucking eyebrows, giving facials and making blonds of brunets.

And what of Olive Borden, the vivacious brunet beauty of the movies of a few years ago who was so very pretty, indeed, that in 1925 she was chosen as one of Hollywood's "Baby Stars" by the Wampas organization?

On May 14, she sued Teddy for annulment and through her attorney, Frederick Baum, announced that she intended to press her action, regardless of the outcome of the bigamy charge.

Olive has been appearing in vaudeville recently, but her fame as a movie queen of a few years ago prompted one to dig back into the records for the names of some of the pictures in which she had played. This search disclosed such plays as: "Wedding Rings," "Half Marriage," and "The Eternal

The monkeys fought and fought until one of them jumped and caught the other in the tummy with a blow that was real sick.

"Oh, my!" cried Coppy, "look at that. The blow has knocked that monkey flat. If I was hit that way I'm sure that it would make me sick."

"Let's help the monkey to his feet, or else find him a nice soft seat. I hardly think that he will want to battle any more."

"As long as we have been shown how, let's stage a fight ourselves, right now. We'll only scare a little while. Our muscles might get sore."

Then wee Duncy said, "I have a hunch for something better for this little bunch. I'll put on both these boxing gloves and then you will see some fun."

"Instead of fighting one of you, I will fight the winning monkey, who seems bubbling over with confidence because one fight he has won."

The Tinies all agreed to this. It was something that they wouldn't miss. But first they took the losing monkey and put him by a big tree.

The monkey shortly heaved a sigh and, rather slowly, climbed up high, and hid among the branches, as ashamed as he could be.

Then Duncy put the gloves on tight and stepped right out and said, "Let's fight!" The monkey seemed a bit amazed, but put his gloves in a heap.

Then Duncy slipped in quite a punch. A laugh came from the Tinymite bunch. "Go right ahead you have given him a scare," said Scouty.

The little monkey, though, was rather smart. He set himself to do his part and right out from the shoulder one long arm began to sweep.

Poor Duncy promptly tried to duck, but found that he was out of luck. The blow caught him right on the chin and sent him in a heap.

(The Tinies ride on the monkey train in the next story.)

Taxes Doubled in 1933

"The Tax Certificate is, in effect, a contract between ourselves and the Government from which it was purchased."

EXCESS PROFITS

to tax certificate purchasing racketeers . . . at the expense of the taxpayers . . . under our ANTI-QUATED system of taxation. Note the following:

"In one county we received a check for $2,121.24 in redemption money the same day that the Certificates were paid for. Of this amount $1,895.02 was for the face of the Certificate redeemed, and $227.22 as the amount of penalty. THIS WAS COLLECTED WITH CASH EMPLOYED FOR LESS THAN ONE DAY. The return of this investment would be at a GREATER rate than 4320 per cent per annum. The sale was held the first of August and we were NOT called upon to pay for the Certificates for over two months."

Mr. Taxpayer . . . what do you think of our government entering into a contract to deliver such profits to third parties . . . when the property taxed does NOT return enough to pay the tax levied . . . let alone interest or wage? Now picture . . . conscientious officers allowing themselves to be puppets of such a system . . . all while trying to represent the people.

Prairie Farmer figures show 1932 farm income inclusive of June to be 49.2% capacity to pay. Here is where your taxes are doubled. Can you see that the present trend . . . is bringing the Tax Certificate Racketeer to your door? Now read what the Supreme Court of Illinois says in the case of Joseph Wartynek Exr. vs. Joseph Franken, et al 300 Illinois 418 at page 421, who tried at a late hour to regain his home:

"A tax deed is effective at the time it is executed. If the proceedings have been regular it conveys the title in fee simple and the grantee may maintain ejectment for the possession of the premises."

Do you see how HELPLESS you are SINGLE HANDED in such a crisis?

"As a taxpayer and as an individual interested in an investment of ABSOLUTE SAFETY coupled with GENEROUS returns, you will, we feel sure, be interested in knowing more about this DEPRESSION-PROOF BUSINESS. A booklet giving further information on this subject including actual photographs of properties purchased by us, has been prepared for you." The "quoted" paragraphs above are extracts from the prospectus of a tax certificate racketeering corporation buying up our homes and farm homes.

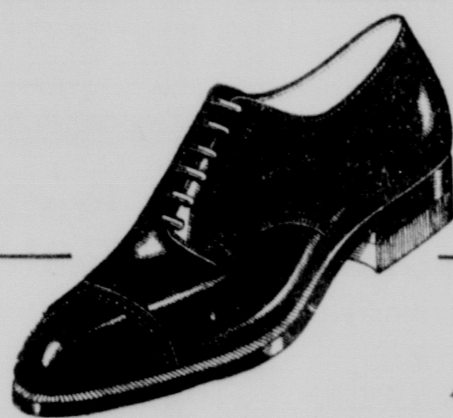

Mr. Taxpayer, if you are a "Red Blooded American," we want to hear from you. Now while you can help yourself. Phone 160 or K922 for literature. If you believe your home is worth protection you must go to it at once.

The home grabbing tax racketeer has profited through your neighbor's loss, and now has his eye on your home . . . for that is his business. Active workers are wanted at once.

MARK KOENIG IS REAL HELP TO GRIMM TEAM

Veteran's Sight Seems to Have Been Fully Restored

By GAYLE TALBOT
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Mark Koenig, veteran shortstop of the Chicago Cubs, reclaimed from the oblivion three weeks ago to steady their infield, fast is proving himself the biggest $10,000 worth of baseball player to appear on the scene this season.

His eyesight completely restored by an operation, Koenig has come back to the big show to play magnificent ball for the Cubs in their drive for the National League pennant. He never was a great hitter, but they claimed he is finding even more brilliantly than in 1927, when he was with the champion Yankees.

With Koenig in the line-up, a steady influence on the youthful Billy Herman at second base, the Cubs have won 9 of their last 10 games. The veteran, who was brought back from the Pacific Coast league, where he had been sent to finish out his playing span, has won several games with his bat, but his fielding has been of the greatest value.

Fielding Well
He handled 10 chances perfectly yesterday as the Cubs repulsed Brooklyn again, 9 to 3, and extended their lead to five and one-half games. In addition, he contributed a pair of singles to a 13-hit attack on three Dodger pitchers. Guy Bush just about paralyzed Brooklyn's flag hopes by yielding only seven hits.

The Pittsburgh Pirates also dropped further behind when the Phillies bombarded them twice, 11 to 3 and 6 to 5, the latter going 10 innings. Roy Hansen held the Pirates to eight scattered hits in the first game, while Bengie and Jim Elliott tamed them in the second.

In the only other National League game, the Giants socked Bill Hallahan and two other St. Louis hurlers for 17 hits and a 6 to 5 win. Eddie Marshall hit a double and three singles.

Home Run Two
Lou Gehrig's 28th home run of the year with none in the ninth inning clipped Cleveland, 4 to 3, and gave Lefty Gomez of the Yankees his 21st victory. Babe Ruth previously had belted his 36th homer with Combs on base.

Another game was decided by a circuit drive at Boston. Benny Tate of the Red Sox pounding one over the fence with one on to beat the Chicago White Sox, 5 to 4.

The Athletics went on a batting rampage behind Tony Freitas to overwhelm the St. Louis Browns 15 to 5. Jimmie Foxx pounded his 48th homer to maintain his lead over Ruth, and young Eric McNair hit his third round-tripper in as many days.

Washington collected 16 safeties of three Detroit flingers to win handily, 8 to 5. Firpo Marberry went the route to score his second victory of the week.

Hooks and Slides

By WILLIAM BRAUCHER

The fact that Rogers Hornsby was cast loose by the Cubs was great break for several major league managers. The magnates promptly signed them to long-term contracts to still any talk that Hornsby would be the next boss.

HAPPY WITH BILL

St. Louis baseball writers saw Hornsby and Phil Ball, owner of the Browns, talking at the ball park. Ah! The news was relayed to the fans garbled with nice black headlines. Phil Ball called in the gentlemen of the press.

"I have just signed Bill Killefer as manager for three more years," said he. The news was carried to the clubhouse on the wings of the wind. The players danced for joy. They were happy to know that Bill would be with them three more years.

STACCATO STYLE

Other members whose status was unknown were promptly called in and signed. Among these were Fonseca of the White Sox, Max Carey of the Robins, Burt Shotton of the Phils and Gabby Street of the Cards.

ANOTHER WILLIAMS
This Tony Freitas of the A's continually kept reminding us of somebody we hadn't seen on a ball field for many years. Now and then, in the press box, the question was asked: "Who does this Freitas remind you of?"

Finally Jimmy Isaminger, veteran Philly scribe, gave the correct answer. He's another Lefty Williams. Not only is Tony like Lefty in style, but in stature and Tony needn't feel offended by that likeness, either.

FRIVOLOUS FACTS

In accordance with our annual custom of slipping you a few quaint facts, it is hereby announced that Brutus Hamilton, the new track coach at California was born at Peculiar, Mo., and that Eric McNair, shortstop of the A's dwells at Complete, Miss.

THE OLD FIGHT

That home run of Mark Koenig's that won an important ball game for the Cubs in the ninth inning the other day, brought out an important fact: the Cubs are imbued with the old college spirit. When the ancient blind man (meaning Koenig) staggered across home plate with the winning run, a dozen of his mates grabbed him, slapped him on the back, shook his hand and gave the good old Siwash yell. CEREAL RELIEVED HIS CONSTIPATION

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN Brought New Health

Every one who has suffered from constipation should read Mr. P. M. Fisher's letter:

"For many years I suffered from constipation and used, for relief, all kinds of laxatives. After a few days' treatment, I would only find my condition the same as before and at times worse.

"Some time ago I started to use Kellogg's ALL-BRAN regularly, once a day as directed. Since doing this, I have found that I do not need any other medicine to procure the desired result, and it keeps me in a very healthful condition."

—Mr. P. M. Fisher, 352 Evergreen Place, Ridgewood, N. J.

Constipation is caused by lack of two things in the diet: "Bulk" to exercise the intestines; Vitamin B to tone the intestinal tract. ALL-BRAN supplies both—and also iron for the blood.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that in lettuce. Inside the body, it forms a soft mass, which gently clears out the wastes.

How much safer this is than risking pills and drugs—so often harmful. Just eat two tablespoonfuls daily—in serious cases, with every meal. If your intestinal trouble is not relieved in this way, see your doctor.

Equally tasty as a cereal, or used in cooking. Get the red-and-green package at your grocer's. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Dudes And Specials Will Resume Series

The city soft ball championship series, which it was announced today is being conducted independently by the members of the City Dudes and Wink's Specials—the contending teams, will be resumed this evening at the Independents Field. The teams are tied with a game each, the third game called after seven innings with a score 4 to 4 deadlock.

Both teams have recovered from their nervousness and from now on will be capable of playing their best game.

A loving cup, the donation of a number of Dixon merchants will be the prize to the winning team. It is now on display in the window of Trien's Jewelry Store.

Storm Prevented Last Night's Show

Last evening's storm caused the postponement of the ring show at the Crawford's Maples. The card featuring three Dixon boys, McReynolds and the Carlson brothers, was an all-star lineup. The management plans on next Thursday as the date for the delayed scraps.

BEST MARKSMEN OF COUNTRY IN BIG HANDICAP

Michigan Youth Won Preliminary Handicap Yesterday

Vandalia, O., Aug. 26—(AP)—Clay targets that cost a cent apiece went whirling through the air here today, carrying a purse of $11,000 to go with America's greatest trap-shooting honor, the Grand American championship.

A field exceeding 800 marksmen went to the firing line during the day, seeking this highly coveted prize. Included in the list were eight former champions, but the odds were strongly against them. They've been holding these Grand Americans for 32 years, and not once has it been won twice by the same shooter.

Yesterday, 700 experienced and inexperienced marksmen were compelled to sit back and watch the $4,000 preliminary handicap go to a 17-year-old Lansing, Mich. farmer boy, Bobbie Olds, who pulled off a perfect score.

Olds posted a 99 out of 100 score early in the afternoon and then let the veterans blaze away at his mark. Ten Renfro of Dell, Montana, and George Ranson of Springfield, Ill., came the closest with 98 each, the Illinois marksman winning second money in a shootout.

To Take Picture Eclipse In Plane

Washington, Aug. 26—(AP)—August 31—Eclipse Day—may be cloudy but the National Geographic Society nevertheless expects to have some very good photographs of the phenomena as the moon's shadow blots out the sun.

The society through the cooperation of the Army Air Corps, has arranged to have pictures taken from an airplane five miles above the earth, well above the normal zone of clouds and haze.

Captain Albert W. Stevens, one of the Army's best aerial photographers, will focus the camera. He will be piloted by Lieutenant Charles D. McAllister.

The two are attached to the Society's Eclipse Expedition which is heading for Fryeburg, Maine, where the eclipse is expected to be total.

The National Geographic expedition will cooperate with that of Georgetown University.

State Can't Make License Plates

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 26—(AP)—All bids previously received by the state for the manufacture of 1933 license plates were rejected by Secretary of State William J. Stratton and new advertisements were ordered to be received September 8.

At the same time, Stratton advised Director Rodney H. Brandon of the Department of Welfare that under an opinion of the Attorney General, it would be impossible to award the contract for the manufacture to his department.

Planning to make the tags with convict labor, the Welfare Department had installed machinery in the state penitentiary at Joliet and submitted the low bid to the Secretary of State.

The Attorney General, however, said he was of the opinion one branch of state government could not execute a valid contract with another. Under such a contract, he said, no suit for its violation would hold in court.

Specifications for the new bids will be changed to provide that all materials used in the manufacture of plates must be purchased in Illinois, as far as possible.

PEOPLE'S COLUMN

THE TAX PROBLEM
A Solution for Illinois and Lee County

The Florida Chamber of Commerce shows that the income of the American people... except salaried officers of government has decreased... since 1929 by 49.4 per cent, while the percentage of income taken for taxes has increased 129 per cent.

Taking the Federal government's estimated deficit of June 30, 1932, at three billion dollars, the government is spending every day eight million two hundred and nineteen thousand dollars—more than it takes in. That is not economy.

Mr. Taxpayer, the item above was taken from Brisbane's Today column of the Herald and Examiner. The figures will interest you because you will have to pay a part of that growing deficit. Is that the way you run your business? How long will you taxpayers put up with such a system of exploitation?

Illinois Taxpayers

On July 26th last a request was made to Mr. Clifford V. Gregory, editor of Prairie Farmer, for figures showing the purchasing power of farm products for the years 1918 to 1932 inclusive. Mr. Gregory replied as follows:

Chicago, Illinois,
August 4, 1932

Doctor W. F. Aydelotte,
223 Crawford Ave.,
Dixon, Illinois.

Dear Doctor Aydelotte:

Replying to your letter of July 26th, the average purchasing power of farm products for the years mentioned based on 1926 as 100 is as follows:

1918—148; 1919—157.6; 1920—150.7; 1921—88.4; 1922—93.8; 1923—98.6; 1924—100; 1925—109.8; 1926—100; 1927—99.4; 1928—105.9; 1929—104.9; 1930—88.3; 1931—64.8.

The figures for 1932 by months are as follows:

January—52.8; February—50.6

March—50.2; April 49.2; May—46.6; June—45.7—49.2.

Yours sincerely,
C. V. Gregory
Editor.

These figures are practical for Lee County because the farms produce most of our income especially now while factories are on limited operation.

Reduce Property Tax 33 1-3

You will observe that the monthly index numbers for 1932 average 49.2... Our present capacity to pay... based on farm prices inclusive of June. Mr. Taxpayer—this means that your 1932 taxes levied to be paid in 1933 must be reduced at least one-third from what you paid on 1931 tax levy. But even a one-third reduction of 1932 taxes paid in 1933 would leave 17 per cent plus to be paid from savings or borrowed on personal insurance. Too many taxpayers have done that to the limit already. The 15 per cent reduction promised by the Board of Review is appreciated, but—

1932 Income Demands 50 Per Cent

The Lee County Taxpayers Association recommended a reduction of but one-third preferring to bear the other 17 per cent as an act of fair play. We believe in sharing the load... And especially now in this extreme crisis... else non-employment, partisan politics, sheriff sales, mortgage foreclosures on homes and farm homes, tax sales and tax certificate racketeering will continue to destroy citizen self respect and the patriotism upon which re-election, public welfare and the security of government depends. However, there is a limit to forbearance.

Government on Trial

The County officers, as a rule, have been courteous and willing to cooperate with us. And this we appreciate sincerely. However they are bonded to enforce the law even though it is too antiquated to protect the taxpayer in this emergency. Hence they have been unable to cooperate as this crisis demands. So we appealed to Governor Emmerson. And the tax sale extension followed through the aid of County Treasurer Sterling D. Schrock and State's Attorney Mark C. Keller. But even so that is not enough in this crisis.

Reduce County Expenses 33 1-3

The Board of Supervisors at the June meeting voted a reduction of 30 to 10 per cent in salaries and office expenses under its control. While that is helpful and we taxpayers appreciate it all... It would have been so much more commendable... had the one-third reduction of salaries needed been offered voluntarily by all officers. This could have been agreed to between themselves. Then the sorely burdened taxpayers would feel quite different than we find throughout the county at this time. Also we all would be facing the future with so much more confidence and security as it is. For heroism is yet among us. They would better have beat the supervisors and legislature.

Good Will

When we require another to do for us... that which self respect would have us do for ourselves... position and prestige suffer. Some people think it is too much to expect an officer to voluntarily reduce his salary. But when you recall that business men who stay in business do just that thing every day... in this crisis... they will see otherwise. And such business men prosper too... for it keeps them in touch with their patrons... building not only good will but a BETTER business. And public spirited officers will find this plan pregnant with both vote-retaining and vote-getting power... not to mention the self satisfaction and self appreciation that it begets. It pays to be on good terms with oneself. Temporary salary retained may prove foolhardy... when the taxpayer no longer has anything to squeeze tax money from.

Appropriations

The same 1932 economy must apply here... remembering that every dollar must be safe to buy at least one-half more (in terms of governmental costs) than it has been buying... or also NOT buy. Expenditures of these appropriations must be further reduced as the necessities of operation safety and security of government warrant in an economic emergency of this severity.

Amortize Taxes

Collect taxes any year and 1931 delinquent taxes by non-negotiable interest bearing certificates charging not to exceed seven per cent interest on amortized payments running from one to three years as justice may demand... at least during this depression... provided installment option if filed within thirty days from opening of tax books for such purpose.

Briefly, let us encourage thrift and solvency... rather than debt and depression. Certainly let us not racketeer the citizen out of his home or farm home in the name of the law.

Consumers Sales Tax

"A two per cent Consumers Sales Tax can be levied to replace one half of the property tax, or more," says Waldimar de Bille, Chairman the General Sales Tax Committee of the American Taxpayers League of Washington, D. C. Governor Connors of Mississippi will explain this in a forthcoming broadcast," he stated. "Watch for announcement in the daily papers. On August 3rd we conferred with Senator Martin R. Carlson who is chairman of the Illinois Commission of Taxation and Expenditures. Read his reply which follows:

Chicago Ill., August 13, 1932
Dr. W. F. Aydelotte, Pres.
Lee Co. Taxpayers Ass'n,
Dixon, Ill.

Dear Doctor:

I appreciate your letter of Aug. 3rd enclosing a copy of the letter which you have sent to Gov. Emmerson.

I am working on this sales tax proposition and I hope that in a short time I will be able to have sufficient figures and information to work out the plan in detail. My object is that the income of a consumers sales tax shall go to the public schools and thereby reduce the amount of local taxes. The Amortization Plan of collecting delinquent taxes. I have not made a complete study of at the present time, but I believe something of this sort can be worked out and I assure you that the Commission of which I am Chairman, will give it attention.

Yours very truly,
(Signed) Martin R. Carlson
President Harriman Approves

The recent election to the presidency of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States of that genuine economic liberal, H. I. Harriman of Boston, was an event of far-reaching importance. Suggesting the sales tax as the "obvious way out" of a serious situation, this official spokesman for organized business in the United States declared:

"The time is at hand when the national government should give consideration to the manufacturers' sales tax, and municipal governments should weigh the possibilities of a retail sales tax, not primarily as a source of additional income, but as a partial substitute for the over-loaded burden laid upon real property and certain classes of productive industry."

Synopsis of Plan

The plan of the Lee County Taxpayers Association follows:

1. Reduce 1932 property tax 33 1-3 per cent.
2. Reduce Expenditures 33 1-3 per cent.
3. Amortize taxes to provide current governmental income and to secure the taxpayer from tax sales certificate racketeering.

4. Enact Consumers Sales Tax

To replace the second one-third of property tax—which would provide 66 2-3 per cent reduction of property taxes for 1932—all the while letting everybody help to reduce taxes cooperatively, economically and that with safety of credit and the security of the government of the people, for the people, and by the people—self help.

This telegram speaks for itself. The Governor has called leaders of the Illinois General Assembly to consider tax and welfare relief, in special session September 6.

Dixon, Ill., August 25, 1932
Hon. Louis L. Emmerson,
Governor of Illinois,
Sen. Martin R. Carlson,
Members of Relief Com.
Springfield, Ill.

Fellow taxpayers:

The "quoted" matter following is taken from the prospectus of a tax certificate purchasing corporation whose business involves the honor and justice of Illinois.

"The Tax Certificate is, in effect a contract between ourselves and the Government from which it was purchased."

It is a provision of the law that guarantees excess profits to tax certificate purchasing racketeers—at the expense of the taxpayer—under our antiquated system of taxation. Note the following:

"In one county we received a check for $2,121.24 in redemption money the same day that the certificates were paid for. Of this amount $1,895.02 was for the face of the certificates redeemed, and $227.22 as the amount of penalty. This was collected with cash employed for less than one day. The return of this investment would be at a greater rate than 4320 per cent per annum. The sale was held the first of August and we were not called upon to pay 'for the certificates for over two months."

Mr. Emmerson and Fellow Taxpayers, what do you think of our government, even though indirectly, entering into a contract to deliver such huge profits to third parties—when the property tax does NOT return enough to pay the tax levied—let alone interests or a wage? Now picture, if you can, conscientious officers allowing themselves to be puppets of such a system—all the while trying to represent the people!

Mr. Emmerson, we appreciate the 30 day extension of the Delinquent Tax Sale, but it is not enough. We must have the Consumers Sales Tax to cut property taxes 1-2 or more, and the Amortization Plan of collecting 1931 delinquent taxes and all property taxes of any year.

Our representatives, we believe, are with us. We have done what you requested, and if Your Honor, Mr. Carlson and our Legislature cannot do the remainder—we shall call again, appreciatively and Respectfully,

Lee Co. Taxpayers Ass'n.

Daily Health Talk

"There are many men who will spend five minutes brushing their hair, five seconds brushing their teeth. Women too in great numbers are equally careless. People of this type go through the tooth-brush operation routinely. They are inspired only by the desire to keep the portion of the mouth which they and other people see in a cleanly condition. The interest of thousands upon thousands unfortunately ends right there," states Dr. L. W. Neber, Superintendent of the State Health Department's dental section.

"A mere matter of twenty thousand years ago this kind of neglect could have been indulged in with perfect safety. At that time human beings lived very close to nature, ate all of their food in the raw state and consequently were not bothered by dental troubles. Prehistoric jaws of man prove this to be a fact.

"However, with all our progress

Mighty Tight Squeeze!

An automobile, a street car and an immovable bridge girder figured in the unusual accident pictured above. It occurred on the Queensboro Bridge, New York, after a truck had forced the auto of Robert Montgomery of the automobile path and over the curb. The car plowed into the girder, bumped a passing street car, and wedged itself so firmly between the girder and the pavement that it had to be puled out by an auto crane. The driver received scalp wounds.

and amazingly complex civilization our teeth, unlike the rest of the anatomy, have not been able successfully to adapt themselves to the changing demands. And while undoubtedly the cooked and soft foods are back of some of the trouble, range neglect stands out as the real criminal.

"It is scarcely too much to say that Riggs disease, otherwise known as pyorrhea, would not be the prevalent malady it is today, were people as anxious to keep their teeth properly brushed and the gums massaged, as they should be.

"Proper mouth hygiene begun in childhood, and if continued now through the years, plus the semi-annual dental visit, will go a long way toward preventing the gum infections which come under the general name of pyorrhea. However, the twice-a-year visit to the dentist and careful attention to daily mouth hygiene between times is only making a half job of it, and the poor half at that.

"Don't forget that the dentist can put your mouth in good condition, but it is your daily job to see that it stays that way. A little more headwork and a great deal more daily muscle activity on the teeth and gums will give the teeth, rather than soft living, the upper hand. Get busy!"

PINK DISEASE

Pink disease, also called acro-dynia, which means painful extremities, is a disease affecting children. We have learned to diagnose this disease only recently.

This disease is more common in boys than in girls and is more prevalent during cold weather.

The disease may begin suddenly, but usually it is insidious in its development.

The outstanding characteristic of its development is a marked change in the disposition of the child. The child who may heretofore have been active and nappy begins to frown and tends to withdraw from play and activity.

It suffers disorders of digestion, lack of appetite and manifests an abnormal thirst. Its heart beats rapidly and may show an abnormal rise in blood pressure.

The child sweats profusely and its feet and hands become swollen and pudgy; the skin appears as though the hands and feet had been immersed in water for a long time. The extremities become over sensitive to stimuli and the children frequently complain of pain.

The disease may take as long as three months to develop and may continue for another three months without much improvement. At the end of this period recovery usually begins.

The mortality rate in this disease is from 5 to 10 per cent with death due to some intercurrent infection such as, for example, pneumonia.

The true cause of the disease has not as yet been established, but it appears that the sympathetic nervous system is affected. It is suspected, but it has not been demonstrated, that faulty diet may be a responsible cause.

The treatment of the disease is general rather than specific.

Children suffering from pink disease require careful nursing including nourishing food and a sufficient nursing care promotes recovery of the child and usually protects it against the development of other diseases.

Tomorrow—The Health Examination

Complaint cannot be made that we seek to draw lessons from the past. It is neither true caution nor true conservatism to accept the doctrine that history repeats itself and that the explanation of every problem is to be found by directly applying the wisdom of previous generations. At the same time there is wisdom to be gained from situations in history, even though largely of negative nature. If sufficient allowance be made for changed conditions and differences in mass psychology.

It may be said that a country cannot in these days be kept contented by sentiment alone. It is no longer a sufficient privilege to be able to live as the subject of a great monarch or as the citizen of a great country. Materialism has indeed made great strides and has somehow identified itself with social reform. Pomp and circumstance and the ideology of loyalty have naturally been affected by new notions as to the world's goods and the way in which they should be distributed.

Perhaps in the whole widely displaying range of political philosophies at the moment the only really foolish people are those who have jumped to the conclusion that even drastic economic and social reform is necessarily incompatible with personal rulership.

IT MAY JUST BE THAT MAN'S MATERIAL IDEAS CHANGE VERY MUCH AND HIS EMOTIONAL REQUIREMENTS VERY LITTLE.

74-Year-Old Father Gets Spanking And Golden Weddings Off

Robinson Ill., Aug. 25 —(AP)—There will be no golden wedding anniversary at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Caleb Warsbaugh of cause the bridegroom of 50 years ago got spanked.

The spanking was given to 74-year-old Caleb by his son, Clifford who took the old gentleman and put him across his knees for the chastisement.

Warsbaugh, and his wife Ida, 67, had sent invitations to twelve children and forty-one grandchildren to attend the anniversary party, but an argument ensued and the younger Warsbaughs took his mother's part.

Father Warsbaugh filed an assault charge. The son pleaded guilty, and a justice of the peace fined him $13.65.

THE PRICE OF A HAT IS DETERMINED BY THE AMOUNT OF GRAIN THE HAT WILL HOLD.

The GUINEA PIG is a RODENT! ITS NAME IS BELIEVED TO BE A CORRUPTION OF "CONY PIG". BUT THE ANIMAL IS NEITHER A CONY NOR A PIG.

ON AN ADDING MACHINE THAT ADDS UP TO 16 PLACES, 127,538,582 YEARS WOULD BE NEEDED TO REACH THE HIGHEST POSSIBLE FIGURE, IF YOU ADDED ONE AT A TIME AND PUNCHED THE KEY 180 TIMES A MINUTE NIGHT AND DAY.

Guinea pigs are natives of South America and have been used as household pets for hundreds of years. They closely resemble the conies, small North American animals that are named for an old world animal of a totally unrelated species. The name Guinea has nothing to do with the Guinea's native habitat. The universal headdress of western Persia is the miter-shaped hat shown above, known as the "kola". The material is a black felt.

His Birthday

By JANE OSBORN

IT WAS on the eve of Griffith

Vall's birthday. He probably wouldn't have thought about it if now, on the very day before, he had not received a letter from his mother, who was off on a year's holiday somewhere in France with his father. The letter had reminded him of the fact that he was to have a birthday and a money order had slipped from the letter. It was for a hundred dollars and the letter had explained: "I know you can't possibly need the money but I am hoping you'll take it and spend it—do something that you really want to without thinking whether it is extravagant or not. Do you remember what fun you and I used to have on your birthdays?"

So when George sat in his bachelor apartment that evening he fell to thinking of those birthdays long ago. From the time that he was a very little boy his mother had devoted the entire day to him. There had been other brothers and sisters,

so in the ordinary course of events

he never saw quite as much of his mother as he wished. But when his birthday came his mother somehow disposed of all other duties and from early morning until bedtime she was his. And he could do just what he wanted to do—and no one need know what they had done if it was something that the brothers and sisters might tease him about. Once he had wanted to spend the entire day in her car with her—not to go where she wanted to go or where other people went,

but just where he wanted to go.

And they had gone down through all the dingiest sections of the city, through narrow crowded streets, along the waterfront and finally out in the woods—not to pick flowers as his mother might have suggested on any other day, but to play Robinson Crusoe. One day

they had gone together to the seashore and spent most of the day

swimming.

Recalling those other birthdays

he decided to spend the next day

as he had done with his mother—doing just what he wanted all day long. He would do just what he wanted—and yet as he thought about it he couldn't come to a decision as to what it should be.

By the time morning came he had somehow managed to get himself in a perfectly irresponsible mood, but he found himself eating just the same sort of breakfast in the same little restaurant where he always went. He left the restaurant—and strangely enough his impulse led him in the direction of his office.

Yes, that was where he really wanted to go. He wondered why—yet all the time he really knew. He didn't like to let the day pass without seeing Edith Lee. Edith worked there as a draftsman, and a mighty good one she was—shy, curly haired, freckle-nosed little Edith who somehow felt that to work in an architect's office was the consummation of all her ambitions. Or at least George thought that was what she thought.

Well, he went to his office, and when he said good morning, Edith smiled, and George rather surprised himself by asking her if she had a great deal to do. Perhaps she could get time to go with him to the next county to see the new church in which they had each in their way had a hand. Edith had a good deal of work before her but while she hesitated, she decided that she could take the work home and work until midnight to get it done. Then she said she would go with him.

George and Edith took a taxi to the garage where George kept his car that he used only when he went to the country, and while they sat together George smiled to himself to think that he was really

Sidelights In News In Capital Of United States

By HERBERT PLUMMER
Washington — The once-famed triumvirate of Republican leadership in the House — Longworth, Tilson and Snell—rules no more on the left side of the dividing aisle.
Nick Longworth is dead. Colonel Tilson has resigned from Congress, a bit disillusioned, perhaps, certainly a bit disappointed. Only Snell remains of the once powerful group.
But another trio has arisen to take their place. Not as powerful as the original trio, for the Republicans are now the minority party. But this new triumvirate rules. Make no mistakes as to that.
"Snell, Purnell and Michener" is the new combine that came in with the 72nd congress—Snell, the portly cheese and power manufacturer from New York, Purnell the husky, broadshouldered, one-time champion pole-vaulter of Indiana, and Michener, the short, bespectacled, expert parliamentary maneuverer from Michigan.

SNELL COMES FIRST—Snell holds the key position as the Republican floor leader. His rise to a place of power and influence in congress and his party following the death of Speaker Longworth was one of the outstanding developments of the last session of congress.
Next to him stands Purnell, red headed and weighing some 190 pounds. Purnell's eight terms in congress have given him opportunity to attain a position of power and influence. He is a high ranking member of the committee on agriculture and has made that subject his legislative specialty.
"I know more about the problems of agriculture than any other man in congress," he is fond of saying, then adding with a twinkle in his eyes, "or else I've been doing some wholesale lying to my constituents."

Snell sends him to the well of the house post-haste whenever the subject is brought to the floor. "Big Ben" can shout as loud and as long as any other congressman.

MICHENER EYES DEMOCRATS—Michener, the third member of the "new triumvirate" is a different personality from the other two. From his seat of vantage on the rules committee, he watches to see that the Democrats get by with no fact ones with impunity.
On the floor, too, he is a valuable aid to Snell. A expert parliamentarian and quick to attack, he is one to be feared at all times. When he gets worked up, he almost screams in denunciation. He is straight from the shoulder, caring not whom he rangles.
These three invariably sit together when the House is in session. Around the big red table on the Republican side they map their course of action, put their heads together to either open an offensive or defend—as the situation demands.

A BOOK A DAY

If you own an elephant and someone sneaks into his stable and gets stepped on, are you liable for damages?
If you find a chest of pirate gold on somebody else's farm, does it belong to you or to him?
If your own carelessness permits a hayrack on your land to catch fire from spontaneous combustion and it sets fire to your neighbor's house can he collect from you?
Life being what it is, you may never have to know the answers to any of these questions. But you'll find them all discussed, together with a great many more, in "The Road to the Law," by Dudley Canham, Lunt, and you'll find, also, that the book is a readable, easy to understand account of the way in which English and American common law has been built up through the years.
Mr. Lunt points out that most of us believe "the law" to be chiefly a matter of statutes, where as the common law—the accretion of court decisions on points not covered by legislative enactment—is apt to be a whole lot more important as far as our daily lives are concerned. He shows, here, how the common law has developed, why lawyers place such store on precedents, why the decisions of various courts are scanned so carefully and how legal rulings on certain questions can change from generation to generation.
It makes a pleasant and instructive introduction to the law for the layman.

BALBO REWARDED.
Rome.—H. E. Balbo, who led a squadron of Italian plants in a transatlantic flight last year, has been awarded the Clifford Harmon trophy by the International League of Aviators for his flight from Italy to Brazil. "The King of Italy" has also awarded the flyer the Grand Cordon of the Colonial Order of the "Stella d'Italia."

Famed "Doubt Baby" Has Birthday

Anastasia Smith, famed throughout the nation five years ago as Cleveland's "doubt baby," as the result of a hospital nurse's error, celebrated her fifth birthday the other day as the guest of Judge Carl V. Weyandt of Cleveland, who played the role of Solomon in her case back in 1927. The nurse recorded the new-born baby as a boy, the parents named the child "George" and not until nine days later did they become aware of the fact that they had a daughter not a son. Mr. and Mrs. Smith began court action, charging that the hospital had "mixed" babies but Judge Weyandt succeeded in convincing them that the baby girl was actually their own. Anastasia is shown above with Judge Weyandt, who presented her with a birthday cake bearing five candles and a big box of candy. Inset shows the young lady as an infant.

GOOD THOUGHTS
To bring the idea of courage within the range of one's own understanding and demonstration, we may ask these questions: Is our courage enlisted on the side of God, good? Is our fight a righteous one? Is health God's purpose for men? Is happiness God's gift to His likeness? Is prosperity a spiritual fact? Is God with us? The true answer is always in the affirmative; and in the long run the divine affirmative triumphs over the mortal negative.
—The Christian Science Journal

Be courageous. Be independent. Only remember where the true courage and independence come from.
—Phillips Brooks
Courage conquers all things: it even gives strength to the body.

The intent and not the deed is in our power; and therefore who dares greatly does greatly.
—Ovid

Be strong and of a good courage, not, nor be afraid of them; for the Lord thy God, he it is that doth go with thee he will not fail thee, nor forsake thee.
—Deuteronomy 31.

AN OLD STRAW HAT
A broad-brimmed hat all made of straw,
Upon a lady's head I saw;
And summer sunbeams tried to race
To kiss the beauty of her face
While mowing grass or cutting weeds,
Or doing other out-door deeds.
There's little of the world she sees She's down so much upon her knees.
It's here and there she goes about,
Though weary, has a laugh and shout
The old straw hat with rainbow brim
Just bobs and sways with every whim.
A furrowed brow and lustrous eyes
Are thus protected from the skies;
Yet still some sunbeams steal the bliss
Of capturing an ardent kiss.
Safe sheltered from the glaring sun,
She labors till her work is done,
And then into the house she goes
To put away her garden clothes.
And old straw hat she hangs with care
—The hat which keeps her face so fair.
It's beautiful to see, at that—
The lady with the old straw hat.
